Between Us

Each year our town has people moving here from some foreign country; from time to time we have an opportunity to meet them and learn something about their customs and habits. Following are some of the people who have come to our town. The most recent family to come to us are the Woods family, who are here for the duration from China. He is pastor of the Presbyterian church here, and each member of his family is interesting as they tell us all different experiences they have had in the Far East. Mrs. Woods is very charming and comes from Ludlow originally. She came over a year ahead of her husband after being told to leave China with their three little girls. However, she was lucky enough to bring most of her lovely things, a few pieces of attractive clothing, a beautiful handbag, which looks very much like our fireproof bench except these are hand-carved and of black wood. Mrs. Kinney, who comes to us from Puerto Rico, was lovely looking the past week in a white dress and a very white hat. During her stay here, she has been getting lonely for the tropics, and says some day she hopes to go back. Two other interesting people here the past week, who certainly were not strangers, were Nell and Madge Cobb. Nell has been doing post-graduate work at Emory all the year, and Madge told us of her very interesting work in the largest consolidated school in the world. This year this school was featured along with some other interesting places in North Carolina in one of the copies of National Geographic magazine. Another person who has come to be with us for six weeks and attend summer school is Mrs. Edna Mae Zeigler (Mrs. C. J. Marshall and her Esquires of Music. They are booked for two weeks each at Reid's Casino, Niles, Mich.; Kalamazoo, Mich.; Toledo, Ohio; Akron, Ohio; Akron, Ohio; Colonial Gardens Hotel, Rochester, Indiana, and many other places. Mr. Carpenter will be with the orchestra for the entire summer, returning to his work here in September.

The sanctuary was decorated with a profusion of palms and gladioli.

A musical program was rendered by Miss Martha White, of Perry, so- soloist, and Mrs. G. D. Counts Jr., pianist, also a member of the bride's party. The bride entered with her brother-in-law, G. D. Counts Jr. She was dressed in a navy blue with white accessories and her corsage was a white orchid. The bride had as her attendants, Miss Dorothy Jordan, of Statesboro and Jessup, and Miss Lillian Pace Sneed. Miss Durden wore a lovely chignon gown of blue and yellow with large hat and matching accessories. Her flowers were yellow roses. Miss Durden wore pink and white accessories and a corsage of carnations, Leon Culppeper, of Cordale, served as Mr. Booth's best man and the ushers were David Bowman, of Dawson, and Alton Ellis, of Tifton. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Booth are now attending summer school at Georgia Teachers' College.

RETAILERS TOLD MUST FILE PRICES

Solemn Warning Issued From Rationing Board in Washington as to Duties

The local board for Bulloch county having control of the matter of rationing, has received from Washington this telegram:

"Please use all available channels of public information, including newspapers, radio and trade organizations, to inform all retailers in your area that price lists of the cost of living, as published in the War Price Rationing Board by July 1st. List of cost of living commodities also on pages 10, 17 and 18 in general maximum price regulation bulletin No. 1, copy of which was sent you with our memorandum June 16th."

The information is being given in exact wording of the controlling authority for the guidance of every retailer affected by this price-controlling measure. Those of our readers who are engaged in any branch of retailing affected by this order will be governed accordingly.

In connection with this program, it is announced that there will be an important meeting of retailers held in the court house on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 1st, at 4 o'clock, for the purpose of giving detailed information to this price-fixing problem.

A representative of the state office of Office of Price Administration will be present to give such information as may seem desirable for the proper enforcement of this regulation.

All merchants and business men of this community, both in retail and wholesale, are notified to attend this conference. It is requested that all merchants within twenty-five or thirty miles of Statesboro shall attend.

Howard R. Christian, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, will be in position to give any desired advance information as to the plans and purposes of the meeting.

Some thirty days ago Representative-elect Akins died, which leaves the vacancy now to be filled at the time of the regular state primary in September. The closing time for the Democratic executive committee at 12 o'clock noon of Saturday, June 26, is so far the only announced date for the election.

There has been some little discussion of the possibility of rival candidates, there is at this time no strong indication of opposition to Mr. Brunson. He is a young business man of outstanding character; a leader among the younger element in all the activities of community progress; is president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and is chairman of the board of managers of the Bulloch County Hospital, and his reputation as an upright citizen is beyond criticism.

VICIOUS WEEDS OVERRUN CROPS

Better Pastures Built Up Only Through Strict Attention to Plant Foods

By eliminating weeds that compete with desirable pasture grasses for plant food and moisture, farmers can develop a better soil and produce more crops for their livestock. W. T. Smalley, assistant soil conservationist of the Ogeechee River Soil Conservation district said this week.

This is especially desirable in view of the need for increased grazing in the food-for-freedom program, Smalley says.

Weeds compete with the desirable food and moisture, and in case of large weeds, shade out the smaller growing plants or reduce their growth to the extent that little grazing is provided.

Early mowing is desirable, but one moving must do the job. Weeds come in cycles and must be mowed several times during the growing season to prevent seeding.

The best time to mow is when the bloom first appears, Smalley pointed out. At this stage the food reserve of weeds is at its lowest point, and there is no danger of scattering seed by the mowing operation. Hand pulling or cutting will control weeds on areas which cannot be reached with a mower.

Weeds in pastures compete with desirable pasture grasses just as weeds on the farm compete with row crops. Elimination of these weeds is an operation that will pay good dividends in improved grazing and the development of a more desirable soil. Overgrazing encourages weed growth.

SHERIFF GOES FOR ESCAPED CONVICT

Negro Wanted Here Charged With Hog Stealing Is Held In New York City

Sheriff L. M. Mallard left Statesboro Sunday night for New York city to receive Beaufort Cone, an escaped convict who is being held here for return to Bulloch county.

Cone, about 30 years of age, is the son of Enoch Cone, of the Port Republic community, who escaped from Bulloch county gang last summer.

He was at that time beginning a second term for dog stealing. Having recently completed a four-year sentence, Cone had only been a liberty a few days when he was again arrested and convicted of a repetition of the offense. After serving only a short while, Cone escaped from the gang and has since been at liberty until his arrest in New York last week was brought about at the request of the sheriff's office here.

It will be recalled that he escaped from the gang last by buying his freedom in 1934, which made it impossible for the dogs to follow his trail.

Almost Twenty Tons Old Rubber Found

The local old distributors for Bulloch county checked up on the amount of old rubber delivered to them at the end of the first week of the campaign and found that about 35,000 pounds had been weighed in—almost twenty tons. They predicted that this was only about half what it would be at the end of the second week.

One farmer, who did not wish his name used, stated that he didn't realize there was any old rubber around his place, but to be in line with all his neighbors he searched the place and found eight tons of it.

The campaign continues through June. Any kind of unessential rubber around the home or farm is needed. Everyone is urged to make sure nothing is overlooked to make this scrap rubber campaign a success.

WAS THIS YOU?

You work down town and some of the time you ride your bicycle to work. Tuesday you were wearing a shirtwaist model dress with blue and white striped skirt and solid blue waist. Your hair is cut and has a natural wave. Music is your hobby.

If the lady described will call at the Times office she will be given two tickets to the picture, "H.M. Prisoner," showing today and Friday at the Georgia Theatre. She will like the picture—everybody will like it.

Watch next week for new clue. The lady described last week was Mrs. J. H. Hinton, of Brooklet. She recognized herself, but announced she was unable to attend the show, which we regretted.

LOCAL DEALERS TO JOIN SALES FORCE

Mightiest All-Out Sales Event in Nation's History Planned for Wednesday

CLOSING PERIOD ENTER PRIMARY

Hoke Brunson So Far Is Unopposed As Candidate For State Legislature

With the closing period fixed at 12 o'clock Saturday—two days hence—Hoke Brunson, Statesboro young business man is apparently to have no opposition in his race for the legislature from Bulloch county.

Bulloch county is entitled to two representatives in the legislature. When the county primary was held in February for the nomination of members of the board of county commissioners and for judge of the city court, by agreement between those who were aspiring for the legislature, their names were placed upon the ballot and nominations were made at the same time. Dr. D. L. Deal and Harry S. Akins were re-nominated to succeed themselves.

Some thirty days ago Representative-elect Akins died, which leaves the vacancy now to be filled at the time of the regular state primary in September. The closing time for the Democratic executive committee at 12 o'clock noon of Saturday, June 26, is so far the only announced date for the election.

SPEAKERS WILL DISCUSS Ceiling For Peanuts

The attitude of the U.S. Department of Agriculture toward increasing the price ceiling for peanuts this fall as reflected through Thomas J. Flavin, assistant to the Secretary of Agriculture, will be discussed at the Farm Bureau meeting Friday night.

The meeting will be held in the court house at 8:30 o'clock war time.

Types of war gases, their effects, how to distinguish them and how to treat them, will be discussed by Harry Dodd. This part of the program was scheduled for the last meeting, but adverse weather prevented having it, Fred G. Blitch, president of the organization, explains.

Three educational pictures will be shown, one showing the relations of the plant food and moisture, and in case of large weeds, shade out the smaller growing plants or reduce their growth to the extent that little grazing is provided.

Early mowing is desirable, but one moving must do the job. Weeds come in cycles and must be mowed several times during the growing season to prevent seeding.

DESIGNATE TUESDAY As Registration Date

By Order of the President of the United States, next Tuesday, June 30, has been fixed for the registration of all young men who have become eligible under the most recent restriction call—those between the ages of 18 and 29 and one-half years. Specifically, the order includes "male persons who were born on or after January 1, 1922, and on or before June 30, 1924." Simply interpreted, young men who heretofore have not registered are to be required to register.

TOMORROW'S SUN BY J. C. WILSON Newspaper Features, Inc.

At the request of numerous Georgia weekly newspapers Tomorrow's Sun has compiled an analysis of the state's complicated political situation. Competent and unbiased observers predict that another candidate will shortly enter the governor's race in an effort to split the anti-Talmadge vote. The candidate will be financed by a giant Georgia corporation which is indebted to Governor Talmadge for numerous favors and promises of big favors in the future. The corporation believes, observers say, that the only hope of re-electing Talmadge next September is to divide the mounting anti-Talmadge vote. Columbus Roberts, until last week considered a probable candidate for governor, is now considered certain to enter the senate race against Richard B. Russell Jr. Mr. Roberts' decision to oppose the junior senator leaves the prospects of a two-man race for governor between Ellis Arnall and Governor Talmadge.

Mr. Roberts' tentative decision to oppose the junior senator and thus create a two-horse race for governor between Attorney General Ellis Arnall and Governor Talmadge has caused considerable concern in the Talmadge camp and has forced the governor to call on the huge corporate forces to furnish a third candidate to serve as a Talmadge "stalking horse."

Mr. Roberts' reported decision to enter the senate race was said to have been brought about by the fact that Talmadge has led Mr. Roberts to believe that would be a candidate for the senate and would not seek re-election as governor. The fact that Talmadge intended all along to run for governor and was only seeking to get Mr. Roberts in the race to split the vote is said to have irritated the Columbus soft drink magnate considerably.

Attorney General Arnall successfully spiked Talmadge's intention to make the racial question the major issue in the campaign when he issued a ruling last week that the state constitution expressly provides for separate educational buildings for whites and blacks. He held that negroes could not even be taught vocational education in a white school building even though there would be no white students in the building at the time the negroes were being instructed. Arnall will officially open his campaign at his home town of Newman on July 4 while Talmadge will launch his campaign for re-election at Moultrie on the same day. A barbecue will precede Arnall's opening speech on July 4 and the public is invited to the come-one-come-all sign will be out.

Although Arnall has not officially opened his campaign his headquarters at the Ansley Hotel is swamped with visitors and a large staff is being kept busy opening and answering the enormous quantity of mail received daily at his headquarters; there is an obvious swing to the Arnall band wagon throughout the entire state.

The Englishman over the long distance telephone was having difficulties in making the operator understand that the name of the exchange was "Ealing." "E—where you goes when yer dies; I—for ingine, them things in front of trains; N—what lays eggs; G—for gor-blime. Now, 'ave yer got it?" Just think what our boys will be up against when they finally land in England!

If all the people who sleep in church were placed end to end, they would be much more comfortable.

Somewhere I read these words:

Humpty Dumpty sat on a wall, Humpty Dumpty had a great fall! All the king's horses and all the king's men had eggnog.

The king's men had eggnog. Why cry over spilt milk (eggs)? Just make the best of a situation.

Hint to disgruntled employees: If you were the boss, would you want to employ yourself? And Mr. Boss: Be honest, now, would you employ anyone just like yourself if you expected to get a job well done?

Don't get discouraged about the war. Methusalem said, "The first hundred years are the hardest."

Where is the girl who used to roll her own stockings? I'll bet she is over there in the corner with paint and brush painting them on.

"Self-preservation is the first law of nature." Judging from the way some congressmen are trying to save their hides, you would think they passed that law.

We will be living in a different world when John Q. Public begins electing statesmen instead of politicians.

It's amazing how self-centered some people can become.

It will take a lot of "pasteurizing" to make some people into grade "A" individuals.

A New Plan To Conserve Tires, Gasoline, Man Power

Beginning July 15---

A Charge of 75 Cents for Service Calls To Replace Electric Fuses in Homes

To save vitally needed gasoline and tires and to conserve man power for essential work, the Georgia Power Company, beginning July 15, will charge 75 cents for service calls to replace electrical fuses in the homes of our customers.

If you blow an electric fuse, and call us to fix it for you, you are forced to wait a half hour or longer—perhaps in darkness—until our service man can get to your home. If you change your own fuse, your service will be restored in a few minutes.

The purpose of the charge is to encourage you to change your own fuses, not to collect a fee for this service.

Each year we make thousands of these fuse calls, running up thousands of miles of automobile operation. While this Company is permitted to buy gasoline and tires necessary for work in maintaining electric service, we have no right to waste these critical materials. Nor have we a right to use valuable man power in needless activities.

There's nothing difficult or complicated about changing fuses. All you need to do is to learn how and we want to show you how—right in your own home. A return postal card is enclosed with your current electric bill, June 8-July 6. Just fill in your name and address and drop it in the mail. A representative of the Georgia Power Company will call on you and give you a personal demonstration of how to change fuses.

Help us to conserve for war production. Learn how to change your own fuses and save yourself the 75-cent charge which will go into effect July 15. Let our representative show you.

No Waiting in the Dark

Most of our customers already are changing their own fuses. They have been doing it because they preferred to. Here's why:

Hitler Will Learn

IN THIS WAR against a cruel, cunning adversary who challenges the right of civilization to exist, there is no standard of ethics which requires that every question asked by him should be given a helpful answer. However much the enemy may wish to know from whence came the blow which staggered him to his knees—however much he may wish to know in advance from whence may come the next hard blast of defense—there is no compulsion to give him the sought-for information.

This came about that, in answer to an anxious query in the minds of those Germans and Japs who wish of full light on the recent attack upon Tokyo, President Roosevelt told them the planes had flown from Shanghai. Even this answer did not satisfy; Jap and German maps had not shown such place. So there arose the still more serious question, where is Shanghai?

We wonder if our readers, themselves, all good Americans, have answered in their minds this important question. We wonder if they would like to have the answer told in language which is recognized in the heart of every American. Would you like to be told?

C. H. Gambrell, associate editor of the Georgia, Ill. Star, writing in verse, has answered this question for you:

WHERE IS SHANGHAI?

Where is this place called Shanghai—
Hid in the far-out east,
To hurl down bombs on Tokyo
And other Jap towns, too?
Where is this mythic airplane base
That's not on any maps,
Where Yankee fliers started off
To take war to the Japs?

This Shanghai-Lia is a Coral Isle
Hid in the far-out east,
It is a factory in Detroit,
A camp in Tennessee;
It is a motor shop in Flint,
It is the workshop of the world,
As caterpillars from from steel
In East Georgia plant;
It is the Corpus Christi base,
A shell plant in Mobile,
A shop where old men like to make
War items out of steel;
It is the lonely night watch there
In Sitka, and in Nome,
It is a soldier's mother's heart
Lonely, but brave, at home,
It is a fazeval country farm,
A ranch in Idaho,
A victory garden in your yard,
A branch of the U. S. O.,
It is the Coast Guards and Marines,
Infantry, welders, cooks,
Cavalry units riding deep,
Students studying books;
It is the privates in the ranks,
Men who would learn to fly,
Corporal Karl Polanski, too,
And Sergeant Schmidt and Bilg; it
Is the management in plants,
Where war stuffs are made,
It is the man in overalls,
Skilled at an expert's trade;
It is the schools both here and there,
Churches, Y. M. C. A.'s,
Men at machines in tiny shops,
Girlhoods are running lathes,
It is a spot behind the lines,
A seaman's board his craft,
The leaders up in Washington,
A foot man on his horse,
It is the man from Tuskegee,
And he who went to Yale,
The man brought up across the tracks,
The man who reads in Braille;
The man who lives in Bigville, and
The one from Homeburg town,
The folks where dark of white, or red,
Or yellow, black or brown;
It is the giant warship as
It plows the waters deep,
The parents carrying on at home—
They, too, long vigils keep;
It is the late who saves his dimes
To buy more Victory Stamps;
The man who wheels big loads of shells
Up on the loading ramps.

Yes, Shanghai-Lia, that mythic place,
Where airmen started out
To bomb Japan with all their might
Is not a place of doubt;
For it is here quite close at hand,
And it is way off far—
It's every place in the wide world
Where U. S. Patriots are!

Learning to Endure

IF THIS WAR goes on long enough, we are going to learn to endure many things which we have been wont to regard as unbearable. We are not expecting to learn to like everything, to be sure—but even endurance is a sort of accomplishment.

Our grandmother told us in our very early youth that she was present at our personal advent into the world; that we began calling for something to eat, and that she dipped into our mouth a sip of sweetened coffee. She said we quieted down with an air of satisfaction. She told us that by way of explanation of how it may have been that we started calling for sugar in our coffee. The taste has been with

ARNALL ON WSB SATURDAY NIGHT

Declares His Campaign Is Driving Opposition Into Nervous Activity

Ellis Arnall, who has been conducting a one-candidate campaign for governor, explained today that his campaign of "shelling the woods" was upsetting the opposition, driving them into the open, and that the public could shortly expect announcements from the other candidates.

The attorney general will speak over radio station WSB Saturday night, June 27th. In his latest talk on the air, Arnall pointed out that his campaign was directed not primarily against any one man or administration, but against disreputable state government and to that extent against those "who have notoriously publicized our state by their disgraceful, dishonest and despotic acts."

Since July 4 has been set as closing date for entries in the governor's race, Arnall will be able to go on the stump at Newnan for a Fourth of July rally and barbecue knowing definitely, for the first time since he announced last fall, exactly who will oppose him.

Arnall's friends and supporters invite all Georgia to come to Newnan on July 4th, and have promised Arnall a crowd of 25,000 as his home town of Newnan plays host at the celebration.

Hundreds of parties from all over the state have already been formed, planning ahead of time to attend six to the car, in order to conserve gasoline and tires.

The Coweta County Arnall Club, in charge of arrangements, announced that the whole afternoon would be given to music, speeches, special entertainment and barbecue for all. Arnall's talk and introduction will be broadcast over WSB from 2:00 to 3:00 o'clock.

TALMADGE TO SAY WHAT ARE PLANS

Will Remove Political Question Mark at His Moultrie Meeting Saturday

More than one question mark will be cleared from Georgia's political horizon July 4 when Eugene Talmadge opens his campaign at Moultrie. Announcement in major races, as heretofore, will await Talmadge's decision and will somewhat depend upon which ring holds his hat when that rally is over.

The bid of Moultrie and Colquitt county, made through the board of county commissioners, Moultrie Chamber of Commerce and farmers of that section, for the season's political classic was accepted, and plans are completed for the occasion.

Repetitions doubling the allowance of gasoline to July 15 is expected to swell the crowds beyond first expectations. Officials in charge of the rally-celebration are preparing for such a record-breaking crowd as assembled in Albany two years before. That, some have said, was the biggest crowd ever to gather in Georgia for a political speech.

Fourth of July political rallies became an institution in Georgia in the days when Bob Toombs and Alex Stephens, and prominent men of that day, campaigned from the stump. Since July 4 has been set as closing date for entries in the governor's race, Arnall will be able to go on the stump at Newnan for a Fourth of July rally and barbecue knowing definitely, for the first time since he announced last fall, exactly who will oppose him.

Arnall's friends and supporters invite all Georgia to come to Newnan on July 4th, and have promised Arnall a crowd of 25,000 as his home town of Newnan plays host at the celebration.

Hundreds of parties from all over the state have already been formed, planning ahead of time to attend six to the car, in order to conserve gasoline and tires.

The Coweta County Arnall Club, in charge of arrangements, announced that the whole afternoon would be given to music, speeches, special entertainment and barbecue for all. Arnall's talk and introduction will be broadcast over WSB from 2:00 to 3:00 o'clock.

FRESH GREEN CORN FOR EDITOR'S SUNDAY DINNER

A choice contribution to the editor's Sunday dinner comprised a dozen ears of green corn brought in Saturday by Brooks White, farmer living near the airport. Brooks always has truck of this sort to divide with friends, and intimates that tomatoes and watermelons were coming close behind.

DAYLIGHT SAVING TIME

dear mr. editor:
sense we have been operating under the old time clock, I have been thinking of the matter.

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Daniel Massey, youngest daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Massey, of Jefferson, Ga., and Ernest Lamar Trowell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Trowell, of Macon, Ga., was solemnized quietly at the home of the bride's parents in Jefferson on Saturday, June 6th. Dr. Massey, father of the bride, officiated in the presence of relatives and friends.

For her wedding the bride was attired in a white dress of silk crepe with white accessories. Planned to the shoulder was a corsage of sweetpeas and fern. She was graduated from the Jackson County High School, Marianna, Fla., after which she received her bachelor of arts degree from Stetson University, Deland, Fla. For the past year she was a member of the faculty of the public schools of Cairo, Ga.

The bridegroom attended the Oliver High School and later was graduated from Effingham Academy. He received his bachelor of science degree from Georgia Teachers College, and for the past two years has been vocational teacher at the Cairo public school. On his paternal side he is a direct descendant of the Salzburger colony in 1734.

Immediately after the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Massey entertained with a reception. In the dining room the bride's table, overlaid with a hand-made lace cloth, was centered with a wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom. LOCAL YOUNG MAN WORKS FOR MARINES

Atlanta, Ga., June 19, 1942.

Dear Mr. Turner:
First, I want to ask that beginning next week you send my Bullock Times to 825 Juniper street, N. E., Atlanta, Ga. Evelyn (Mrs. Johnson) is leaving Statesboro to join me early next week, and we want to continue to receive the paper up here.

Second, since I am in the public relations section of the U. S. Marine Corps, as this letterhead indicates, I thought you might like to know a little something about my work, etc., with the marines.

I only stayed in Savannah two days and they needed a stenographer in Atlanta for Major Meigs O. Frost, officer in charge of the public relations section for the southern recruiting division. Incidentally, I owe my thanks to Star Stationer Tom Preston of Statesboro, who is also in the office here. They transferred me here from Savannah. As you probably know, Major Frost was quite a celebrated reporter for many years on the New Orleans Poynter.

He was primarily responsible for exposing the Huey Long scandal in Louisiana and is a former Pulitzer prize winner. He has been through three wars. He really has plenty of correspondence to do, and that is what I like. He calls me in lots of times and dictates for two or three hours at a time. That is just what I want, though, so that I can go back to the great town of Statesboro, I hope, and take up where I left off.

Our section is to the marines what a newspaper is to a store or some other organization. It is our job to see that the marines are constantly on the mind of those who might enlist in some branch of the service. In our section we have radio men, newspaper writers and photographers. Incidentally, I think we are going to have to do some public relations work in Bulloch county and let them know just what a good organization the marines is. They are a great bunch of men. I am not just saying that because I am here in an office in Atlanta, but if they were to ship me out for overseas duty tomorrow, which I have no assurance they would do, I would still think that I am in the best branch of the service.

Guess this will be about all for this time. Hope to be able to get down to Statesboro before long and see everyone, but as I am in the marines now, I can't make any definite plans.

With best regards, I am,
Sincerely,
J. BRANTLEY JOHNSON, JR.

DUKES-JOHNSON

Manson S. Johnson, colored, of the Willow Hill community, announces his engagement to Mrs. Isabel Haskins Dukes, of Port Republic, Md., natives of Bulloch county. The wedding will be solemnized at her home at Port Republic on July 12th, 1942, at 4 o'clock, eastern war time. Advertisements.

INJUNCTION HEARING

W. E. Anderson, J. C. Anderson, W. G. Anderson, L. S. Anderson and John H. Anderson, individually and collectively, versus M. A. Anderson, Jr. and Mrs. Eva Davis and Mrs. Beulah Mae Strickland, individually, vs. W. O. Anderson Anderson, Purvis Anderson, and J. E. Brannen, Injunction, Equity, etc.

To defendant, Purvis Anderson, non-resident of Georgia, do hereby give notice of the filing of the above entitled suit in the superior court of Bulloch county, Georgia, being an action for injunction and other equitable relief, and you are hereby required to be and appear at the next term of said court to be held in Statesboro, Georgia, on the fourth Monday in July, 1942, to answer plaintiff's petition therein.

Witness Hon. T. J. Evans, judge of said court, O. L. BRANNEN, Clerk, Bulloch Superior Court. (Jund-18 July 2-16)
